70th Lindau Nobel Laureate Meeting

Once a year, Nobel Laureates convene in Lindau to meet the next generation of leading scientists; 500–600 undergraduates, PhD students, and post-doc researchers from all over the world. The Lindau Nobel Laureate Meetings offers young scientist a unique opportunity to meet scientists from different generations, cultures, and disciplines. Next year's meeting will be interdisciplinary and welcomes young scientists in the fields of chemistry, physics, and physiology or medicine.

The call for applications from Swedish undergraduates and researchers to attend the 70th Lindau Nobel Laureate Meeting is now open.

The Royal Swedish Academy of Sciences in collaboration with the Ragnar Söderberg Foundation are responsible for recommending Swedish participants to the Lindau Review Panel. The panel then makes the final selection. Participation is fully funded by the Ragnar Söderberg Foundation and the Foundation Lindau Nobel Laureate Meetings.

The meeting will be held from 28 June–3 July 2020 on the island of Lindau, situated on Lake Constance in south Germany.
